You are so far away but so often in my mind....

1. Update on registering EANET in Ukraine

As a co-coordinating institution and a partner responsible for registration of our TEMPUS EANET project in Ukraine, CHNU would like to inform the partnership, especially those Ukrainian partners that the documents for the registration of the project are on the final stage of preparation and will further be submitted to the Ministry of Economics of Ukraine for processing. We expect the project to be officially registered before the PSC meeting which will take place in Chernivtsi in May 2015.

What do we need registration for? That is a fair question. To those who wonder, the Ukrainian partners need to register all the TEMPUS projects they take part in at the Ukrainian Ministry of Economics, because this will allow to purchase the equipment according to the budget of the project. Now we know, that purchasing the equipment on time is crucial for further effective development of the project and execution of our Work Packages.

Taking this opportunity, on behalf of CHNU EANET team I would also like to thank all the partners for providing the respective letters of support and thus, facilitating the process of registration!

Yesterday, the 28th of January Martin Haring changed his function at HvA. Until now he was manager of the Entrepreneurship minor program of School of Economics and Management (Faculty of HvA). From today he will have a new role as Program manager
